Mail Patrons Favor Village Carrier Service

No Signed Objections Are Received; Application Mailed Today

Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk today applied to the U. S. Post Office Department in Washington for village carrier service for Antioch.

The mailing of the application followed a period of several weeks during which time Kufalk sought to ascertain the opinion of a majority of mail patrons who are served by the local office. Receipt of many of the coupons printed in the News last week, and signed by patrons favoring the service, influenced Kufalk to make immediate application. No signed objections were received, however, a few patrons expressed disapproval verbally.

Establishment of the service would not affect boxholders, who call at the post office for their mail. Kufalk points out, but patrons served by the carriers could not call at the post office for their mail. The one cent postage rate for first class mail would be abolished, and the two-cent local rate would be in effect. Many persons who signed the coupons expressed belief that the service would be a great convenience to those in the more remote sections of the village, and the result of the canvass made is regarded as favoring the establishment of the service.

Notwithstanding the fact that the local office can more than qualify upon the basis of gross receipts and in other ways, there is a possibility that the application may be rejected in Washington on the grounds of lack of funds in government appropriations for this purpose.

What Are They Reading?

"Water Supply Poisoned. Thousands of People Die as Result of De-liberate Pollution of City Reservoir."—Suppose our eyes should scan a newspaper headline as the one above. What would be our reaction? Such an occurrence is unheard of among civilized nations. It would be hard to imagine a man or group of men so de-based as to commit a crime of this sort. Fortunately, we can sit back with a feeling of security knowing that our village and community officials take every precaution to insure a steady flow of pure unadulterated water to our homes.

However, while many of us would cry out with horror at the prospect of such a dastardly crime as the poisoning of water so necessary for human existence, we sit idly by in the face of danger to the moral life of innocent children and youth. In an article written for a national magazine a certain author expressed the conviction that Communism has a very definite program to destroy religion in the United States through the destruction of morals of our youth. The author of a pamphlet entitled, "The Fight on Filth," has this to say: "One who scans the indecent literature as a whole cannot fail to note the interrelationship between a certain publication and several others, nor to observe that the same demoralizing advertising is contained in practically all of them— which forces the conclusion that there is but one general motivation, namely, to de-Christianize and corrupt young America."

Because of the prevalence of dangerous reading material, especially in the cheap pulp magazine, there has been a nation-wide campaign to raise the moral standard of reading among our young people. In this crusade various groups are active, representing all religious beliefs and various professions. Recently Angelo Patri wrote to an inquirer that "It was the duty of parents to clean up the newsstands." A member of a local organization obtained the statement from Mrs. Helen Miller of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers that "It is time that we parents wake up to the fact that our children are being influenced by this sort of thing." Recently in Chicago a large number of obscene magazines were banned when the censor threatened cancellation of licenses. Judge Allegretti, who for a long time presided over the famous Boys Court of Chicago, says "The effect of improper reading material on youth cannot be overestimated and obscene and immoral literature and pictures affect the youthful conduct even more than spoken words. Reading of crime stories gives the lad every opportunity to re-enact them."

In the face of all this evidence of authority, reason and experience, it is difficult to understand how distributors of such magazines would feel no accusation of conscience in helping along the ruin of American youth. Such co-operation is not only immoral (continued on page 5)

Paddock Opposes "Dictator Bill"

Residents of the Tenth Congressional District, irrespective of party affiliations, are strongly opposed to the "lease-lend" bill, according to the mail received by Congressman George A. Paddock. The letters, cards and telegrams are coming in at the rate of about one hundred daily.

Congressman Paddock, in outlining his attitude on House Resolution 1776 (the lease-lend bill) said: "I shall vote against H. R. 1776 because it gives the President a blank check on foreign policy. The people of the 10th District elected me their Congressman to speak for them on foreign policy, and they evidently do not wish me to delegate that power to the President."

"Mr. Roosevelt already has unprecedented powers, with enormous appropriations to carry them out. Whenever National Defense requires additional action by Congress, the people's Representatives can be relied upon to protect the nation's interests."

State Champion to Grapple in Charity Mat Show Jan. 31

Silverstein vs. Dizzy Davis; Schuh Is McMillen Foe on Grayslake Card

The Grayslake Committee on raising funds to swell the Infantile Paralysis donations for the county has announced a Wrestling show Friday evening, Jan. 31, at the Grayslake School auditorium.

The card will consist of four matches headed by Ralph Silverstein, state champion. Silverstein will be matched against Dizzy Davis, eccentric Kansan.

The other half of the main event brings Jim McMillen and Pete Schuh together. Schuh is a burly bearded behemoth weighing 240 pounds who appeared at Grayslake last summer in several matches at Peg's arena. In the 30-minute preliminary events, Paul Bozell of California will tackle Karol Krauser the sensational Polish star, and Mike London, the bearded sheep herder from Montana, will do his best to eliminate and exterminate his hated rival, Frankie Hill, a cow hand from the Texas Panhandle.

All tickets are priced at $1.00 and are on sale at Bud's tavern, Antioch. The committee reports a brisk advance sale, and has requested it to be announced that half of the net profits remain in Lake county to be used by local bodies for combating the dread children's disease.

Summer Care of Old and Young Poultry to Be Class Subject Jan. 30

A discussion of the summer management of both old and young stock will be continued Jan. 30 at the Antioch High School Adult Evening class.

Many poultry raisers take especially good care of their young chicks, only to neglect them during the latter part of the summer so as to have them out of condition during the fall when egg prices are at their peak.

Next week's lesson will endeavor to correct this common mistake and bring about better returns to the poultryman.

The meeting starts at 7:45 p. m. Last week's meeting turned out to be one of the most interesting ever held, when 45 poultrymen turned out to study the 1941 outlook for the farmer.

All meetings are held on Thursday evenings at 7:45. There are no charges to those who enroll. Meetings will continue till March 20, inclusive.

Funeral Services Are Held for Guy Henderson

Services were held at the Peterson Funeral home, Waukegan, Wednesday afternoon for Guy Henderson of Lake Villa, who died Sunday in the Lake County General hospital. Burial was in Warren cemetery.

Henderson, who was 65, was a native of LaFayette, Ind. Surviving him are his wife, Annie; four sons, Walter of Lake Villa and Raymond, Russell and Addison of Chicago, and a daughter, Mrs. Edith Kowals, Chicago.

Normally every duty of life brings happiness, and in proportion to its importance, but should never be performed for the sake of happiness.

The chronic hand-shaker usually has something up his sleeve.

RELATIVES SEEK TO BREAK WEDGE WILL

The exertion of undue influence is being charged by nine relatives of the late Aimee F. Wedge, who are seeking to break the will whereby she leaves the larger part of a $40,780 estate of Ernest J. and Gertrude Brooks of Antioch.

Seeking to break the will are Robert L. Smart, a brother of Mrs. Wedge; Louise Ross, a sister; Louise Korber, Elizabeth Peyton, Mabel Crawford, Katherine Smith, Edith Bain and Mortimer Bain, nieces and nephew.

A provision of the will left $5,000 in trust, with Mrs. Brook as trustee, for the benefit of Earl S. Wedge, a son, who died in a state hospital a short time before his mother's death March 21, 1940, at the age of 72.

Mrs. Wedge was the widow of the late George Wedge, who was widely known as a west Lake county farmer, real estate dealer and livestock dealer.

Speed Champ Receives Trophy

Don Hargadon, Milwaukee flash, did well for himself in the speed event at the Ice Carnival held here Sunday. After having won the Lions' derby, he entered the free-for-all race for the Waukegan News-Sun trophy and won. Here he is receiving the cup from Chairman Jim McMillen, while Coach R. H. Childers, program chairman and announcer, looks on.

Girls Riding on Toboggan Behind Automobile Injured

Barbara Bicknell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Bicknell, Channel Lake, and Irene Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holt, also of Channel Lake, were injured when an automobile driven by Einar S. Nelson of Sycamore, Ill., skidded and struck the toboggan on which they were riding behind the Bicknell car Saturday.

Bicknell, who was driving his car, had stopped at the Holt residence on Route 173 while Irene came out to join Barbara, and was about to pull away from in front of the place, heading east on the highway, when Nelson came along, also headed east.

Nelson was unable to pass because of west-bound traffic, and his car skidded into the toboggan when he applied the brakes.

The girls were taken to Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan by the Antioch Rescue squad, which was called to the scene.

Irene, who was found to be suffering only from cuts and bruises, was permitted to return home, but Barbara remained at the hospital, where X-ray pictures were taken Tuesday to determine the full extent of her injuries.

Barbara was reported this morning to be resting as easily as could be expected. Several of her vertebrae were chipped, and she was badly bruised. Mrs. Bicknell has been spending much of her time at the hospital with her.

Ice Carnival May Establish Yearly Custom

Five Thousand Enjoy Program of Games, Races, and Pageant

Delighted with the success of Antioch's first Winter Ice Carnival, which drew an estimated total of 5,000 visitors Sunday afternoon and evening, the Antioch Winter Sports association is already looking forward to a similar festival next year.

Color, fun, action and excitement were keynotes of the carnival from the skating races and horse race in the afternoon to the Indian pageant, crowning of the Carnival Queen and King and fireworks in the evening.

Illuminated by colored flood lights, with flares burning on the hillsides around, and with ruby-colored lights gleaming through the clear ice of which the Carnival rulers' "throne" was composed, Lake Antioch and its snow-covered hillsides made a striking setting for the pageant and "crowning."

Mayor George B. Bartlett gave an address of welcome and officially opened the carnival by tossing a snowball on the ice.

The races and contests were rapidly run off, with Jim McMillen as general chairman and a co-director of activities out on the ice; R. H. Childers, the other director of activities, at the loud speaker microphone; William Brook as registrar; George Ergang, starter; Roman Vos, Walter Scott, Robert King, judges; H. B. Gaston and H. A. Smith in charge of awards.

In an exhibition race, Hollywood Hunter of Maple Line Farm at Grayslake, driven by Peg Behning, paced a quarter mile in 30 seconds and a fraction over, taking part in three heats against a trotter from the same stable who substituted for Dr. Gushline's fast horse, Sam Wickford of Palatine. Hollywood Hunter holds a pacing record of a mile in two minutes.

Don Hargadon, Milwaukee, speed skater, took first prize of $8 (merchandise certificates) in the Antioch Lions Club Derby (two miles), with Joseph Verheken, of Lake Forest, who was second, and Rollie Murre of Milwaukee, third, receiving similar awards to the value of $5 and $2, respectively.

Hargadon also won a beautiful engraved silver cup donated by the Waukegan News-Sun, in a special event. In the figure skating, first place went to Dorothy Manke of Waukegan; second to Kenneth Vanderveer, Waukegan, and third to Stanley Mesec.

Winners in the novice fancy skating event for young girls were Louise Elms, first; Betty Huff, second, and June Peterson, third.

"Chick" Rothers took first place in the barrel jumping contest. A tie for second place was determined by lottery, with Louis Koppin being assigned "second" and Bernie Schneider "third" place. Fourth place went to Howard Wells.

Other events and winners were: Girls' 15-17 years—Elma Wicklund, Waukegan, first; Dorothy Peters, second; Janice Gruesser, Milwaukee, third.

Boys' 15-17 years—George Anderson, first; Reg Brooks, second; Tom Brett, third.

Girls' 11-14 years—Marilyn Stair, first; Colleen Andrews, Camp Lake, second; Louise Elms, third.

Boys' 11-14 years—Wallace Anderson, first; William Radtke, second; Wesley Messing, third.

Girls' 7-10 years—Annabelle Barthel, first; June Hunter, second; June Peterson, third.

Boys' 7-10 years—Presley Bratrude, first; Melford Stillson, second; Charles Wilton, third.

For children under 7 years—Anne McMillen, first; Jean Hughes, second; Daniel Petty, third.

Four special prizes of $1 each went to Mildred Horan, chosen as the best-dressed girl skater; William Brook, nominated as best dressed young man among the skaters; S. E. Pollock, as the "oldest skater"; and William (Billy) Deering as the youngest skater.

The Indian pageant which formed an impressive part of the evening's program was directed by Marguerite K. Phillips, with Antioch High school students taking part.

The fireworks were in the charge of members of the Antioch fire department, under the chairmanship of John Horan.

"Down to the Last Lathe"

It is a terrific national job that the United States has now undertaken — that of arming for its own security and serving as arsenal for the whole democratic world as well. It is a job that demands the utmost in both effort and intelligence from every citizen and every group.

One group—and that a tremendously important one—has already pitched in on its own initiative with a project that will inevitably contribute to the success of the national effort. Industry, through the National Industrial Council, a great group of state manufacturing and trade groups sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, is conducting a vast inventory of our resources for building defense equipment. It will cover 30,000 manufacturing establishments of all sizes and shapes, and will ferret out available machinery and equipment "down to the last lathe." The information will then be made available to William S. Knudsen and his Defense Commission by the N. I. C.

This survey will be completed during "Preparedness Through Production Week," January 19 to 25. And its vital nature and its significance cannot be better summed up than in the words of the official announcement:

"For manufacturers these are desperately hurried days. But the successful muster of all the country's manufacturing facilities is a basic part of the task."

It's the kind of job that a democratic nation and a free industry can do far more effectively than totalitarians, even though the latter use all the threats and the whips at their ruthless command!

The Administration's War Policy

Whether or not you personally liked the tone and purpose of the President's dramatic "all out for Britain" speech, one thing can be said for it. It cleared away any doubts that may have existed concerning this Administration's war policy. It eliminated the last semblance of our theoretical neutrality. It placed us definitely beside England as an active ally, ready to give her almost anything and everything she may need to prosecute the war against the Axis powers. It administered a hearty slap in the face to Japan, by declaring that China too was helping to defend American rights and principles.

Some interpreters read into the President's speech intimations that he will soon declare a "full emergency," as against the "limited emergency" he declared a year ago.

According to legal authorities, this would not give him any important additional powers. Congress must pass new laws, in other words, before the already vast Executive powers can be significantly extended. However, declaration of a "full emergency," in the view of some, might help spur industry and labor to greater deeds in producing arms.

Defense officials, such as Mr. Knudsen, are talking more and more of the urgency of the situation. And it is true that, while the general production indexes go higher and higher, our production of finished materials of war continues to lag. Both the Army and Navy have been forced time and again to revise their forecasts—and to revise them backward. The bottlenecks grow, rather than decrease.

According to some of the best authorities, the output of finished implements of war will sharply increase in a month or two—or the cause of Britain will look a great deal darker.

Remember—your telephone works both ways

You use the telephone so often to call some one else that you may not realize how often others use it to call you. Actually, much of the value to you in "having a telephone" lies in those incoming calls. Surveys show that many families receive more calls than they make.

REMEMBER? . . . last night the Browns telephoned—so you're going over there tonight for bridge . . . then Betty's friend called to straighten out a school assignment . . . and Aunt Helen talked to you from Ohio to say Uncle Jack is much better . . . and a neighbor rung up to discuss plans for the next club meeting. All incoming calls—and all important!

When you stop to figure how much your telephone helps to make life more pleasant, add the calls you receive to those you make—to get a full appreciation of its value.

It is the constant aim of your company to provide the finest possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost to you. . . . Illinois Bell Telephone Company.

The Gift Divine

A single tree my prospect is:
Of all the lavish greenness
That summer yields, I have but this
In place of utter barrenness;
Hemmed in by walls of brick and stone,
This one green outlook is my own.
But breadth of land and sweep of sea
Have failed of such attraction,
And bloomy gardens granted me
Less simple satisfaction,
Less thankful sense of happiness,
That now in one tree I possess.

It shuts all sordid things away,
All pleasant things enhances;
It fills the silence day by day
With summer's sweetest fancies.
Brooks babble, wild flowers smile for me,
And forests murmur, in my tree.
Birds, too, and butterflies, and bees
Throng in its compass narrow,
A choir of rippling harmonies
I hear in one brown sparrow;
A glint of sudden sunshine brings
The dream of many-colored wings.

Ah, gift divine! what sorrow curbs,
What bitter fate can flout you?
Better with you a meal of herbs
Than the stalled ox without you;
For eyes that you anoint can see
All nature's beauty 'n' one tree.

The recent sensation at Antioch, as set forth in the Waukegan papers of last week, was brought to a close on Tuesday last when Dr. Kyte after making himself unusually troublesome for a couple of days previous, took down his shingle, packed his grip and left town, presumably for his home in St. Joe, Mo. We hope that the events of the past two weeks may prove a warning to the young ladies of Antioch to beware of strangers.

From every section of the country comes a demand for retrenchment in government expenditures, but the demand meets no sympathetic response in official circles in Washington. Bureaucracy at the National Capital will never be willing to go back to the former scale of public expenditures, extravagant though it was. During the war the various departments, bureaus and commissions have had immense appropriations which they could expend with a large degree of discretion, and they like the sensation of spending freely. . . . The extravagance of the Democrats up to the entrance of the United States in war was niggardliness compared with the manner in which money was thrown away when the war furnished an excuse and a cloak for expenditures almost unrestricted in character and unlimited in amount. What ever a bureau head wanted, he ordered. The usual formalities were abandoned and a phone order or a personal order was all that was required. Prices were of no importance whatever. Because criticism of expenditures could be denounced as an effort to "hamper the President in the prosecution of the war," there was almost utter disregard of cost or necessity. Departments and bureaus that would have asked for thousands of dollars for a given purpose under ordinary conditions, wanted millions. Not to talk in terms of millions was to be a "piker." The result is that officialdom at the national capital has become accustomed to extravagant ways and will never consent to go back to former restrictions. Getting appropriations in a "lump sum," which can be expended in the discretion of the department, has become so common that any effort on the part of Congress to place limitations upon expenditures will be resented as an intrusion upon the prerogatives of the bureaucrats.—(Editorial.)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 10.

The Golden Text was, "I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son" (Revelation 21:6, 7).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things" (Acts 17:24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is Mind, the creator reflected in His creations. The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality, nor existence, except the divine Mind and His ideas. The Scriptures also declare that God is Spirit; therefore in Spirit all is harmony; and there can be no discord; all is life, and there is no death" (p. 331).

AN EMERGENCY APPEAL FOR ONE MILLION DOLLARS

All members and friends of Methodism are asked to help in securing a million dollars as our portion of the immediate need for war relief at home and abroad. Of this amount $250,000 is for service for our boys in and near the army camps; $250,000 to aid British Methodism in keeping the missionary work supported by that organization; and $500,000 for overseas relief in the war-devastated countries which have been subjugated by Germany. Practically every church and many other organizations are making this same appeal, but this million is to be raised by Methodists and their friends.

I have not yet received the official allotment for Antioch church, but we cannot wait for that. I am undertaking to secure our portion by asking for contributions of one dollar or more. Some will need to give much more in order to reach the goal. Please bring your contributions to the church NEXT SUNDAY or mail it to me at once. The great need calls for haste and generosity. What Are They Reading?

but unpatriotic as well. There is no town or community so small as not to be affected by the danger. Naturally, if our community is to carry on a campaign of this kind, we must have some standards of judging literature. We could adopt the standard of the National League for Clean Literature which has put on the black-list all literature which:

1. Glorifies crime or the criminal;
2. Is predominantly "sexy";
3. Features illicit love;
4. Carries illustrations indecent or suggestive;
5. Carries disreputable advertising.

It might not be wise to publish the names of the magazines. The above standard would help parents and others to judge for themselves. In the meantime let us put forth every effort to encourage good reading. There is so much wholesome literature which raises the ideals of youth that parents and others should experience no difficulty in obtaining it. The reward for such effort will not be long arriving. It will be noticed in their children's speech, in the youngster's appreciation of real art, in a sane attitude toward the important things of life and in real youthful joy, which is the result of innocent and clean amusement.

The Antioch Woman's club has inaugurated the local campaign and now seeks the active cooperation of the social, religious and civic groups of the community. Any individual or groups wishing to help in this noble work are asked to communicate with the Committee on Clean Literature, Antioch Woman's club.

The committee endorses the following editorial by Sterling North, noted literary critic who recently spoke before the Antioch Woman's club:

A National Disgrace

(And a challenge to American Parents)

Virtually every child in America is reading color "comic" magazines—a poisonous mushroom growth of the last two years.

Ten million copies of these sex-horror serials are sold every month. One million dollars are taken from the pockets of America's children in exchange for graphic insanity.

Frankly we were not perturbed when we first heard about the rise of action "comics." We imagined (as do most parents) that they were no worse than the "funnies" in the newspapers. But a careful examination of the 108 periodicals now on the stands shocked us into activity. At least 70 per cent of the total were of a nature no respectable newspaper would think of accepting.

Save for a scattering of more or less innocuous "gag" comics and some reprints of newspaper strips, we found that the bulk of these lurid publications depend for their appeal upon mayhem, murder, torture, and abduction—often with a child as the victim. Superman heroics, voluptuous females in scanty attire, blazing machine guns, hooded "justice" and cheap political propaganda were to be found on almost every page.

The old dime novels in which an occasional red-kin bit the dust were classic literature compared to the sadistic drivel pouring from the presses today.

Badly drawn, badly written and badly printed—a strain on young eyes and young nervous systems—the effect of these pulp-paper nightmares is that of a violent stimulant. Their crude blacks and reds spoil the child's natural sense of color; their hypodermic injection of sex and murder make the child impatient with better, though quieter, stories. Unless we want a coming generation even more ferocious than the present one, parents and teachers throughout America must band together to break the "comic" magazine.

But, of course, the children must be furnished a good substitute. There is nothing dull about "Westward Ho!" or "Treasure Island." Sinbad the Sailor didn't need spinach to effect his feats of strength. The classics are full of humor and adventure—plus good writing. And never before in the history of book publishing have there been so many fine new books for children, or better edited children's magazines.

The shame lies largely with the parents who don't know and don't care what their children are reading. It lies with unimaginative teachers who force stupid, dull twaddle down eager young throats, and, of course, it lies

The Observer

J. C. James calls to our attention these findings of the American Automobile Insurance companies:

Youth at the Wheel

In the December 27, 1940 issue of the Chicago Daily Tribune, there is a very enlightening editorial on this subject which should be read by every father and mother who have children of the driving age. We quote this article in its entirety:

"We know a father who is currently in the doghouse with his high school daughter. The daughter, being attractive, has a number of invitations to dance during the holiday season. Her father doesn't object to her attending—providing he drives her and her friends in the family car and calls for them when the dance is over.

"This father isn't an old fogey. It isn't his daughter's morals that he thinks are in jeopardy, but her life. He is an executive of an automobile casualty insurance company, and every day in his office he gets reports on accidents in which youthful drivers are involved.

"Two shocking accidents in the Chicago area recently have given this particular father and others who share his views strong arguments for their position. In one of these crashes three Chicago high school boys lost their lives on a suburban highway. They had passed another car three times, in an apparent attempt to provoke a race, and were going 70 miles an hour when they skidded and were killed. In the other case four high school boys were killed when the car in which they were riding left the road and struck a tree.

"The safety bureau of the Chicago Motor club has statistics that show that these are not isolated incidents. Young drivers in the various age groups are involved in from seven to three times as many fatal accidents as drivers of mature years.

"On the basis of the number of miles traveled, drivers 16 years old have nearly seven times as many fatal accidents as drivers of 30. Seventeen year old drivers have four times as many. The age group from 18 to 21 has about three times as many fatal crashes as 30 year old drivers. From 22 to 25 years there is a regular decrease, until the 25-year-olds have not a great deal higher accident frequency than those 30 years old. The accident frequency chart shows a gradual improvement after 30 until the age of 48 is reached, after which drivers have a higher accident tendency. The 65-year-olds, however, have just as good a record as drivers of 27, and several times better than that of the juvenile drivers.

"A start has been made toward reducing this juvenile accident record through safety education in the public schools. Fatalities among drivers and passengers from 15 to 25 years old have shown a considerable decline in the past three years. This is a variety of education better carried on in the home than in the school. If father puts his foot down, son, or daughter's boy friend may keep his foot off the gas. Speed is the cause of most of the accidents involving young drivers."

We call to your particular attention the portion which we have underscored which definitely confirms the need for the careful underwriting of risks involving drivers below 25 years of age, but particularly those between the ages of 18 and 21.

We couldn't help but notice around town—an Illinois state cop—in a brand new sergeant's uniform—arriving in town and breaking three ordinances by (1) pulling over to the curb and lungeing in a no-parking zone by the bank; (2) knocking over one of the village's new "cross walk" signs; and (3) coming to a final rest and parking in front of a fire hydrant while he dropped in at one of the local oases and down a few "cold ones." Quite a few folks are interested in finding out who the guy is.

—Fire Chief Jim Stearns is about the only other fellow that tried that fire hydrant-parking stunt. "And I got a ticket for it, too!" he sadly comments.

—Wrestler Jim McMillen dropping in to borrow the boss' typewriter along about editorial-writing time... and getting took up on his kind-hearted offer to write an editorial.

—Roy Kufalk reports that he is beginning to get some "inkles" of interest in that checker tournament he is thinking of promoting, but Joe Panowski has been a bit discouraging to efforts to lure him into it. Says Joe, "I like a nice, quiet game—but not THAT quiet. Checkers are an old man's game. I'll leave 'em to Roy!"

"Life is made up, not of great sacrifices or duties, but of little things, in which smiles and kindness, and small obligations given habitually, are what preserve the heart and secure comfort."

—Sir H. Davy.

Battle Scene Shifts to Mediterranean As Nazis Bolster 'Fading' Italian Army; Willkie Backs FDR on Lease-Lend Bill; U. S. Navy Split Into Three New 'Fleets'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union)

DEFENSE: Parties Split

Congress debated President Roosevelt's plan to loan or lease munitions of war to Great Britain. Party lines were broken and politics forgotten both by political leaders in congress and through the nation. Leading the attack against the bill within congress was Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.). Former President Hoover and former Gov. Alf M. Landon, the G. O. P. standard bearer in 1936, lined up behind him. But President Roosevelt had the support of Wendell L. Willkie, who ran against him last fall. And in the senate he was supported by Senator Austin (R., Maine). Willkie suggested several changes in the measure, however. He proposed that a time limit be fixed during which the President will have exceptional powers to deal with embattled democracies. He also proposed that the nations to be given help be named in the bill.

Administration senators were quick to adopt the view. As the proposal moved into house and senate hearings, amendments were added to carry out the Willkie suggestions. Meanwhile Willkie and three of his

HELP TO ITALY: Germans Take Over

Mussolini began to slip. In Egypt the British bombed him out of the air while on the ground his troops were retreating farther and faster westward until it seemed as though all of eastern Libya would be lost to the Fascist empire. The Greeks were threatening the last line of resistance in southern Albania and there wasn't much for the Italians to fall back on after that.

More and more it became apparent that the Duce's Axis partner would be forced to send German troops to extract the Italians from the tangled mess. Even the Italian home front began to crackle, perhaps the first rumble of revolution. Benito Mussolini was being referred to as Finito Mussolini.

Only German planes appeared, at first piloted by Italians. The planes were sent to Albania. After that followed German "instructors" to teach the Italians how to fight in the air. Finally all pretense was dropped and Germans began to arrive in numbers, taking over Italian bases. Were the Germans invading Italy? Perhaps not. Maybe it was only a case of holding Italy in "protective custody." Be that as it may, when Germans took up the battle themselves, Italy could no longer be considered an equal partner in the Axis. The Germans don't work that way. They dominated the fight. Mussolini needed their help and could get it only on the German terms.

Mediterranean War

The Germans' first attack came in the Mediterranean, off Catania. Here the inland sea narrows down to a slight channel between Sicily and the North African mainland. Through this channel must flow all British supplies and reinforcements to Greece and Egypt.

A large convoy was passing through the channel escorted by the royal navy, including the 23,000-ton cruiser Southampton. Nazi dive bombers appeared in force and what is believed to be the first battle ever fought between war vessels and aircraft took place. The British admit both war vessels were hit. The Italians claim more were damaged.

The battle ended at nightfall and the British ships made harbor. But the Germans sallied forth the following day and continued raids on British shipping in the Mediterranean for the five days. They said friends were arranging to go to London during the first days in February. The head of the Republican party wished to see first hand just what was going on in England. He made application to Secretary Hull for a passport. The request was granted in three hours.

The Fleets

Many months ahead of delivery of ships which will give the United States a two-ocean navy, orders were issued which split the present war vessels into three "fleets." The main forces will remain in the Pacific, but there will be an independent command in the Atlantic and a third independent command in Asia. Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel was named commander in chief. He and President Roosevelt are old friends. They worked together in another defense problem—when Mr. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy in 1916-1917. At the same time orders were issued to increase the navy personnel from 192,000 to 232,000.

More Planes

Dr. George Mead, aircraft production head of the national defense commission, announced that the nation's three largest automobile corporations had agreed to take a larger hand in the making of fighting planes. Ford, General Motors and Chrysler will make parts for 1,200 planes each. They have completed arrangements with Consolidated Aircraft, Douglas and Glenn Martin to make the assemblies. The cheapest of the 3,600 planes will cost $100,000.

Meanwhile there still is some dispute over the lack of aluminum. The Aluminum Corporation of America, which holds a monopoly, said production has more than doubled and that the firm is spending $15,000,000 of its own money for further expansion. Since aircraft today is almost wholly aluminum in the bodies, the demand is high and there yet may be a senate investigation over Alcoa's affairs and national defense.

Otherwise on the defense front: The North Carolina, first battleship to be built for the United States navy in 20 years, will go into commission April 11.

A fighting plane built for the U. S. army attained a speed of 620 miles an hour in a power dive test. It was driven by a reserve officer, Lieut. Andrew C. McDonough. The speed of the plane is faster than sound, so that when it is heard approaching for bombing it is too late to duck—the plane already has passed.

Bomb Destroyer

PHILADELPHIA. — Builder Harry S. Parks of Philadelphia is pictured holding a model of the "Bomb-Proof Umbrella." Real name of the device is the "Wilford Latta Centrifugal Bomb Destroyer" and a working model has been demonstrated to the War department.

TOO MUCH COTTON: Reduction Asked

Because the export market for cotton has disappeared with the war, Farm Secretary Claude Wickard believes a reduction must be made in the previously announced government production goal of 12,000,000 bales for the 1941 crop. To achieve the cut, he offers cotton growers $25,000,000 worth of cotton goods free if they will reduce the acreage.

Under the plan, cotton growers would receive stamps which would be redeemable at any retail store for cotton goods. Stamps would be given at the rate of 10 cents for each pound of cotton which farmers normally would have produced on the unplanted portion of their acreage allotment.

For example, a farmer with a 10-acre allotment, would receive $25 worth of stamps if he planted only nine acres, assuming that his normal yield was 250 pounds per acre. Voluntary reductions will not affect allotments under the 1942 program.

By this method Wickard hoped to prevent further increases of surpluses, under the government loan plan and also to increase employment in cotton mills, while allowing cotton farmers to plant more garden and feed crops.

FLU MOVES EAST: Nation Warned

The wave of influenza which began on the West coast during fall swept eastward and by mid-January registered 100,000 victims east of the Mississippi.

In Boston 20,000 children were absent from school. There were 32,000 cases listed in Texas and 45,000 in Memphis. Schools were closed in the Carolinas and Tennessee. Five thousand were ill in St. Louis. In the first two weeks of last year, there were but 9,500 cases in the whole nation.

The National Billiard Tournament went ahead without Willie Hoppe, the first time since he won the championship in 1910. In a preliminary play with Jake Schaeffer, he had appeared in the regulation dinner clothes for two days while his temperature was above 101. When Schaeffer learned about this he withdrew the challenge and the game came to an end.

Most encouraging was that the type of influenza is a mild one, not the fatal type that swept over the nation like a plague in 1917. This year few deaths have been recorded.

Nevertheless, national health service authorities advised people to avoid crowds, to get plenty of rest and eat sparingly of wholesome foods. Extra precautions were being taken in army camps.

MISCELLANY:

Lieut. Gen. Lord Baden-Powell became famous in Africa in another war. Greatly outnumbered by Boers, he stood them off by sheer bluff and for 217 days stalled or attacked. When he returned home to England in 1910, after a life-time of the Dark Continent, he was a national hero. He founded the Boy Scouts, dressed them in short pants, like those worn by the British colonial armies. Last year his health failed and he returned to Africa, where his dreams have always been. He died there at the age of 84, while other British soldiers, also dressed in the short pants, were again making British history in Africa.

Dolores Frances, aged nine, has had her share of tough luck. She contracted infantile paralysis when she was 18 months old. But she had one piece of luck she will always remember. She was chosen as the most typical child aided by the Infantile Paralysis Foundation at Warm Springs. Along with the title went a visit to the White House as the guest of Mrs. Roosevelt.

George Herman ("Babe") Ruth was sued for $5,000 after an automobile accident on a New Jersey highway.

Here is the latest picture of Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England shown as he watches anti-aircraft gunnery in action at a Royal Artillery establishment, "Somechere-in-England."

that 15 ships were sent to the bottom. When the truth can be learned definitely, it may be one of the "classic" battles of history, for it may establish what long has been a moot question—whether aircraft can successfully challenge armed surface craft.

Looking Ahead

The British felt the German force, now based in Italy, may be a definite challenge to the campaign in the Near East. It may mean that Hitler will seek to cut off all communications between England and Cairo.

On the other hand the British still anticipate an attack on England itself. And they doubt that the attempt will be long delayed. German bombings of Irish cities were seen as "training" flights toward this objective. The British took no chances. They bombed "invasion ports" in Germany, Holland, Belgium and France nightly.

SCHOOLS CRITICIZED: By College Heads

Present-day educational methods are inadequate to cope with the needs of democracy, speakers told the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges. Dr. Theodore M. Greene, Princeton philosophy professor, and Dr. John M. Mason, president of Swarthmore college, led the discussion. The Rev. Edward V. Stanford, president of Villanova, agreed with them.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY School Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for January 26

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

CHRIST'S CONCERN FOR THE LOST

LESSON TEXT—Luke 15:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.—Luke 19:10.

Lost! What fear and disquietude grips our hearts when we hear that word! A little boy strays away into the forest, and the whole countryside gives up its work to go and seek him. An airship falls to reach its destination, and hundreds of ships go to seek after it, while an entire nation waits in suspense. A ship is lost at sea, and the whole world grieves.

But listen! It is only when applied to the spiritual life that the word "lost" finds its real depth of meaning. To be "without God in the world" (Eph. 2:12) and without hope—that is to really be lost. Yet parents who would not rest a moment while their child was physically lost go on without concern over his spiritual condition.

Our Lord had no such unconcern. He was deeply moved over the lost condition of men; he came "to seek and to save that which was lost." The two parables of our lesson teach us three truths.

I. Lost and Lamented (vv. 1-4, 8). The publicans and sinners recognized their need of a Saviour and He, knowing their lost condition, received them, much to the disgust of the Pharisees and scribes who felt no need to be saved. They have their descendants in our churches today.

The good shepherd cannot rest while one of the sheep is lost. Though "there were ninety and nine that safely lay in the shelter of the fold," he sought the lost one. His grief-stricken heart compelled him to go out into the night to find him.

One wonders how we who profess to follow Christ, the Good Shepherd, can be so complacent about the lost. What if we do have the ninety and nine in church—where is the lost one? Even if we do have a large Sunday School class—where are the boys and girls who are lost? Do our hearts grieve over them? If so, we will go and seek them. We who would quickly join the woman in seeking for her coin—will we join the Saviour in seeking the lost?

II. Sought by Sacrifice (vv. 4, 8). The woman laid aside her usual duties and the pleasures of life to seek her coin. The shepherd left the warmth, the comfort, and the rest which he had earned to go out into the wilderness to seek his sheep.

"But none of the ransomed ever knew

How deep were the waters crossed;

Nor how dark was the night that

Ere He found His sheep that was lost."

Soul-winning calls for sacrifice. If the love of Christ constrains us, we will do it gladly, but if the self-seeking, comfort-loving spirit of this age controls our lives, we will always find some excuse (not a reason, but an excuse).

III. Restored With Rejoicing (vv. 5-7, 9, 10).

The lost coin back in the owner's hand brought joy to her and her neighbors. The shepherd calls in friends and neighbors to rejoice over the restored sheep. How intensely human that is, and how altogether appropriate.

The great truth, however, is found in verses 7 and 10, where we learn that the repentance of one sinner sets even the bells of heaven ringing as the angels of God rejoice.

How long is it, my Christian friend, since you caused such joy by permitting yourself to be used of God in winning a soul? Yes, I know that it is God who seeks, but He uses human beings as His messengers, as His seekers. That is our first business after we ourselves have been saved.

Our lesson will not be complete unless we consider the rest of the chapter—the parable of the prodigal son. In its main points it is like the other two parables, but there is this vital difference—the shepherd sought his sheep, the woman searched for her coin—the father did not seek the son; the son sought the father.

Some prodigal, far from the house of his heavenly Father, may read these lines and say, "I wish someone would seek me out and bring me to God." But, my friend, you need not wait for anyone. Do as the prodigal did—"arise and go" to God. He is waiting for you; His love has never faltered; He wants you to come now. Make His heart rejoice, and set the choir of heaven singing, by coming to Him by faith—just now.

As Ye Go, Preach

And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give.—Matthew X, 7-8.

YOU SAVE not once, but twice in this great sale! Because these lamps were purchased before manufacturers' prices were advanced, we can offer you a saving there. And with prices drastically reduced for clearance, you save again. Thus every one of these outstanding bargains represents a double-edged saving.

Included are boudoir, end table, floor, pin-it-up, novelty and bridge models in metal, glass, china and wood finishes. But may we warn you... although there is a wide variety to choose from, many models and styles are strictly limited in number.

And since such values will be sold quickly, you'd better come in early for best selections—and avoid disappointment.

All donations were volunteered, as there was no soliciting for prizes. Playing an important part in making possible Antioch's program of winter recreation, of which the carnival was the highlight, was a donation of $500 made by the Antioch Lions club to the committee in charge of promoting winter sports here.

The Antioch winter recreation program includes the providing of skating facilities and, when the amount of snow is sufficient to permit them, tobogganing and skiing at Lake Antioch. Floodlights were arranged so as to permit the enjoyment of these sports evenings.

HOW MUCH FEED?

Let me show you several feeding plans and explain cost of each. You can then select the one best suited to your own particular requirements.

Good feed management means profit. I'll also be glad to give you information on:
